The John S. Knight Institute for Writing in the Disciplines offers an award of $300 each semester for the best student paper written in a course affiliated with Writing in the Majors; honorable mentions, if any, will receive $100 each. Conditions for the award:

a) Submissions must be written by undergraduate students enrolled in Writing in the Majors Courses.

b) Entries can be of any length and on any topic. We recognize that students in these courses are writing in a wide range of disciplines and in a great variety of forms. For this reason, all entries must include complete and accurate documentation of all sources in an appropriate format.

c) Entries should be typed. Entries should include the author’s name, local address, and home address. Entries should include the course name and the names of the instructor and the student’s Teaching Assistant.

d) Please include the assignment along with a copy of the paper and the entry form below.

e) No more than three submissions per class. We count on instructors to vouch for the disciplinary value and accuracy of all submissions.

Submissions are due in 101 McGraw Hall by Friday, December 19.

Fall 2014 Knight Prize for Writing in the Majors

~Please Print Clearly. Do not staple. Use paper clips only.~

Student’s name ________________________________ College _______________

Local address_________________________________________ Class of ____________ Local telephone__________________________ Home telephone___________________

Email (Cornell and/or otherwise)_____________________________ Student ID number ____________________________

Home address (street, city, state, zip) ___________________________________________

Instructor’s name___________________________ Instructor’s e-mail____________________

Ta’s name _________________________________ Ta’s e-mail________________________

Department __________Course # and title ________________________________

Should I win a prize, I give the John S. Knight Institute permission to publish, quote from, and/or distribute copies of the materials submitted, and to distribute publicity to newspapers and other publications, local and/or national, about my winning the prize. I am also prepared to send electronic versions of my text (not a PDF, but an editable text document) to the Knight Institute (knight_institute@cornell.edu). I will receive the award for my prize-winning portfolio upon submission of the electronic text.

________________________________________

Title of essay

Student’s signature_________________________________________ Date_____________